Dedication

To the Faculty, which has proved itself a loyal friend and sympathetic advisor, and to all who have made possible our graduation from Seneca High School, we, the Seniors of 1930, dedicate this volume of The Tiger as a symbol of our sincere appreciation.

Foreword

Pleasant thoughts of true fellowship with high school friends and faculty, now vivid and seemingly indelible, will gradually fade and pass.

To preserve these memories for future moments of enjoyment is the object of this book——

The Schoolhouse

UNIQUE among buildings of its class, the schoolhouse towers above Seneca in its simple, impressive beauty. Gothic in form and gothic in strength, it represents a fortress of learning, a fortress tried by time and storm; but scorning all tests, it has remained staunch and true as a defender and as a protector.

The building has a certain impressive dignity all its own. Of blended stones in gray and red, it fits perfectly into nature's background of green and blue. The trees that have grown old with the schoolhouse stand through the seasons, adding each year to their slow records.

Thus it has come through the years. A symbol it is to the generations—hope to the younger, living reality to the present, and memories to the past. Thus may it ever be—strong in its purposes, true in its ideals, and successful in its graduates.

The Entrance

JUST a door to many, but to all who have ever attended the Seneca Public School, what a wealth of memories it recalls. One often wonders what tale might be unfolded about the things that have happened behind that door. It would, indeed, be a wonderful tale of the gladness, and yet the sadness, of school life.

It opens to the wondering child to show him the slow but sure way to the land of wisdom, and closes on the graduate, leaving him fond and tender memories of his school days. To some, of course, it brings memories of the struggles and hardships encountered there, but, intermingled with these, will be recollections of the gay times, picnics, and parties of his classes.

To the old graduate, going slowly past the door, there comes a wistful longing to be within its portals again, living over those happy days spent on the other side of that door. He doesn't see that dark, heavy door; he sees himself and his classmates going from class to class again, giving and attending the parties, planning chapels, picnics and sneaks.

Forever cherished and enshrined in his heart he will keep the memories the sight of that door calls back to his mind.

SENECA HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS:

An educational career should afford several notable advantages with which we as students and educators may be able to begin the serious business of living in this modern world.

Among these are: An elevated point of view from which one may see life and its problems; worthy objectives to give life its trend; talents discovered and their development begun; passions subordinated to high ideals; and a disciplined will to choose between right and wrong.

It is my sincere wish that the students of Seneca High School may be embarking on an educational voyage that will bring them in contact with the above-mentioned advantages. And I hope that I have been an instructor and an administrator who has been instrumental in causing our institution to abound with them.

Sincerely,

A. D. HENSLEIGH

Class of 1930

ONE bright day in September, in the year of 1918, a group of tiny tots started bravely out on their journey over the Road to Learning, in the Seneca public school, under the able guidance of Miss Wederbrook, and are now triumphantly bringing their journey to a close. Of the original group which started then, nine have stayed side by side all through school.

In the first grade they made their first successful public appearance in an all-school operetta. In the third grade they gave another operetta and continued to remain before the public in the fourth grade by joining with the third grade in giving the play "Rumpelstiltskin." In the sixth grade many fell victims to the siege of measles that swept over the town that year. Here, also, they gained some new members, John Henry Allen, Paul Winsor and Lurline DeWitt, who came in from the fifth grade. This year was quite important in a musical way too, because three members of the class, with two from the seventh grade, entered the county music contest and won first place.

In the seventh grade, under Miss Barney's leadership, and in the eighth grade, under Miss Funk's guidance, they prepared for the final four years of their journey. Under Mrs. Scott's direction they gave the operetta, "Twilight Alley," and made their farewell bow to the grades.

Their first three years in high school, with Miss Flatt as their sponsor, were quite as successful as the other eight years had been. In their Junior year, they brought back to mind the memory of their early dramatic efforts by giving the play, "Oh, Kay."

This final year, with Miss Hemphill as sponsor, seems to be by far the best of all, but soon the time will come for the Seniors to bid farewell to all their friends and days spent in S. H. S.

Class of 1931

IN the year 1919, another group of little ones appeared before the doors and eagerly clamored for admittance. They too, started under the guidance of Miss Wederbrook.

They made their first public appearance in the second grade, in the operetta, "Little Boy Blue." In the third and fourth grades they continued to be in the lime-light, giving the play, "Rumpelstiltskin" and an interesting George Washington program.

In the fifth grade they gained three new members, Jeannette Hybskmann, Eleanor Smith and Elizabeth Vorhees, who came in from the fourth grade, and lost one, Lurline DeWitt, who went on into the sixth grade. In the seventh grade they helped greatly to make the operetta, "Twilight Alley," the success it was.

In the course of the years they lost some members and gained others so their class remained about the same size until this year, when six new members joined it.

They started their careers in high school with Miss Gray as their sponsor and have had Miss Young for their sponsor the last two years. This class, also, surprised everyone with their play, "It Happened in Hollywood," displaying unsuspected talent and ability.

They are now planning their final campaign as Seniors, and intend to make their last year as successful as the other years have been.

ONCE again in the year 1920, another group of youngsters set sail upon the sea of learning under Miss Wederbrook's guidance. They appeared before the surprised gaze of the public twice that year, once in a program given with the second grade, and again in a Japanese dance.

They went through a series of music contests in the other grades, and enjoyed a number of years of work and play. Of course, they lost some of their members along the way, but others came to take their places, but of the original group only six are left.

This class started Junior High basketball. Their team had a highly successful season and finished up the season by attending a Junior High School tournament.

They started their career in high school with Mr. Douglas as their sponsor and are continuing under Miss Lukens' leadership.

As Freshmen, many of their members became prominent in athletics and are continuing to show much promise along this line.

The Sophomores of this year seem to have a bright future and the prospects for a successful future for S. H. S. are very good.

Class of 1933

I N 1921, another group of wondering, slightly frightened children began their journey over the Road to Learning, also under Miss Wederbrook's leadership. They made their bid for fame by giving in public a little Dutch dance in a program sponsored by the Woman's Club. Of the original group, seven have kept with the class.

In the seventh and eighth grades they united with the other grades in giving food and clothing to the poor at Thanksgiving and Christmas time. They also displayed their musical talent when they assisted the Glee Clubs with an operetta and a concert.

This class also had a Junior High basketball team, and gave it a good start and it bids fair to become a very good team in high school.

This year they gained twelve new members, most of them coming from the country. They chose Miss Jacques as their sponsor. They have also made their bid for fame both in athletics and in music and have good prospects for a successful future.

Book Two
“ATHLETICS”

Charles Stein—One letter man. Although Chuck was eligible for only the Holton and Sabetha games, he showed his ability as no individual did this season. Before coming to S. H. S., Chuck made three letters at St. Mary's Prep. School in Atchison. Chuck was a cool-headed, hard-tackling quarter-back. Height 5 ft., 7 in. Weight 140 lbs.

Gerald Braley—Jerry was one of the "subs" who stuck the season out and took everything the first team could offer in practice. He is a half-back. Watch him go next year, fans. Jerry has two more years on the team. Height 5 ft., 8½ in. Weight 136 lbs.

Harley Funkhouser—One letter man. Huck showed the right kind of fight in the games he played, and made a good name for himself as a guard. He has two more years to play. Height 5 ft., 11 in. Weight 150 lbs.

Harold Schuetz—Like Stein, Dude was ineligible except for the last two games but as a tackle he has shown a sample of what he will do next season. One more year with the team. Height 6 ft., ½ in. Weight 168 lbs.

Donald Wempe—Wempe entered school this year, thinking he would be allowed to play with S. H. S., but he also was ineligible except for the last two games. When Don played he never quit. He has one more year on the team and we expect big things from him at end. Height 5 ft., 11¾ in. Weight 155 lbs.

Herbert Fuller—Herby was a flash at half-back, being tall and aggressive, he could sprint the length of the grid-iron in 10 seconds time. Starting late in the season he showed up well. Herb will graduate this year. Height 6 ft., 1 in. Weight 155 lbs.

Lester Hagerty—One letter man. A hard-hitting full-back and a mountain in size. Les has the speed of a locomotive. His interference was valuable to our ground gaining and line plunging back-field. Two more years on the team. Height 5 ft., 11 in. Weight 178 lbs.

Charles Hays—One letter man. Chuck played only one year with S. H. S., but before coming here he played two years in Iowa schools. This playing experience was helpful in out-guessing his opponents. Chuck made a specialty of seventy and eighty-yard runs. He was a triple-threat man in every sense of the word. Conference coaches and officials named him quarter-back on the all-conference eleven. Chuck's services will be greatly missed next season. Height 5 ft., 8½ inches. Weight 152 lbs.

Lee Hagerty—One letter man. Lee and Les are twins, but not so you could notice it. Lee stopped his share of plays that approached end and showed a real fighting spirit. He has three more years to play with the team. Height 5 ft., 9 in. Weight 168 lbs.

Charles Everhart—Two letter man. An optimist, Chuck entered the game full of fight and determination. The longest gain made by our opponents never daunted his courage. Chuck was consistent in every way and found much use for his speed and flashy tackles. S. H. S. will miss his athletic prowess next year. Height 5 ft., 9½ in. Weight 158 lbs.

Ray Steiner—Three letter man. Ray was one of the best offensive men in the conference and was chosen tackle on the all-conference team. Flashy at times he was always steady and the "Tigers'" most dependable forward. It was no uncommon sight to see plays directed toward his side of the line pile up before getting well under way. Ask Sabetha. He liked to "rough it" and the harder they came the better. Ray will be missed in the line-up next year. Height 5 ft., 8½ in. Weight 158 lbs.

John Slocum—One letter man. Johnny was exceptionally good at offensive work and when a hole was to be opened he hacked at the opposing forwards until they fell away before his mighty drives. One more year with the "Tigers." Height 5 ft., 7½ in. Weight 150 lbs.

Paul Winsor—Two letter man. Paul was a consistent end and knew the game. Winse was death on fumbles and gained many yards via the forward pass. He graduates this year. Height 5 ft., 11 in. Weight 160 lbs.

William Seymour—Two letter man. Bill was out on injuries the greater part of the season, but as an end he showed some real speed and clever tackling. He was a deadly forward-pass snatcher and made it "tough" for his opponents. Bill will graduate this year. Height 5 ft., 9½ in. Weight 140 lbs.

Roy Steiner—Two letter man. Roy was a student of the game and showed it in every position. In the seasons of '28 and '29, he played every minute of every game. He possessed a splendid passing arm and delivered the ball with remarkable accuracy and with the speed of a bullet. He was exceptionally good at blocking, kicking and defensive work. Roy's strength in the back-field will be greatly missed next year. Height 5 ft., 8½ in. Weight 156 lbs.

Captain Cecil Timberlake—Three letter man. Slightly handicapped by size, Cecil made the best of it and showed the fans what a "little guy" could do. He was always in the thick of the game, under the opposing team, grabbing and clutching, fighting with the only kind of fight he knew. He was an excellent sportsman setting a good example for his team. Cecil's position at guard and full-back will be hard to fill. Height 5 ft., 5 in. Weight 140 lbs.

Lowell Allison—One letter man. Lowell is a hard-driving full-back, shifty and speedy. His stubborn line plunges netted many touchdowns on his never-stop, never-down attitude in lugging the ball. "Bull" was an exceptional "frosh." In the Sabetha game he was substituted when the "Tiger" aggregation was seemingly at a standstill. Before the tussle was over he had crossed the opponents' line 3 times to score 13 points. Lowell has three more years in S. H. S. Height 5 ft., 7¼ in. Weight 165 lbs.

Captain-elect Louis Kerr—Louis is one of the most versatile men in the history of "Tiger" football. He particularly demonstrated his ability as a defensive player and delighted in smacking the man carrying the ball with a forceful drive and tackling ability. "Lukie" has speed and size which makes him a smashing power in the center of the Seneca forward wall. He is a heady field general and knows how to handle the team. One more year in S. H. S. Height 6 ft. Weight 176 lbs.

Donald Hickok—One letter man. Full of fight and determination, Don made good use of his one hundred forty pounds of weight. He has speed and the ability to snag passes which made him a strong candidate for end position. He played half-back when Hagerty was out and made good there. He finished the season at end. One more year in S. H. S. Height 5 ft., 7 in. Weight 140 lbs.

Russell Buehler—Two letter man. Although he is the smallest man on the team, he showed the right spirit and did some excellent work at end. In the two years he has to play, he should be on one of the wing positions as a regular. Height 5 ft., 8 in. Weight 135 lbs.

Coaching Staff

Coach Edward Holt came to Seneca the fall of '29. He has made quite a name for himself both as a coach and by his travels. Shortly after his graduation from Coe College he went with a party of scientists down Grand Canyon on one of Eddy's expeditions. His coaching in S. H. S. has as a whole been very successful.

Albert D. Hensleigh came to Seneca in 1927. He coached the teams to victory a number of times that year. In '28 he was made superintendent of S. H. S. but he could not give up the old game so abruptly and therefore assisted in the coaching of the football and basketball teams the year of '29. Mr. Hensleigh is also a very proficient tennis player.

Harry L. Douglas, although our English teacher, proved to be equally as good when it came to coaching basketball. He coached the Girls' Basketball Team through a victorious season and won the favor of all the girls by his efficient methods. Mr. Douglas also played on Seneca's town team.

The basketball season opened with five of last year's squad back and several promising new men out for practice.

Seneca played a very heavy schedule this season playing twelve teams besides the regular Big Seven teams.

Although the Big Seven season opened with a defeat from Effingham the team showed that it had trained well and that Coach Holt had taught his men the fine points of successful basketball.

On March 1, Seneca closed an interesting and successful season winning from the County All-Stars with a score of 33-18.

The Reserves under the direction of Coach Hensleigh and Captain Funkhouser played a hard and exciting season although not an entirely successful one, winning only four of the ten games they played.

The boys are hoping for a more successful season next year as every member of the squad will be back in Seneca High School.

Track

The track season of '28 and '29 under the excellent coaching of Mr. Hensleigh ended with a great deal of success. By the end of the season a great many trophies had been added to our trophy case.

Seneca won the DuBois-Bern-Seneca meet but it was not until the relays were run that the tie for individual honors between Axtell and Seneca was broken off and Seneca was victor with one point margin. The relay team deciding who would be victor—Duryea, Kerr and the Steiner twins—finished second to Summerfield and gave us the one point.

In the Seneca Invitation Meet Seneca placed third with 22½ points while Sabetha was first and Horton second.

In the Big Seven Meet Fuller won the 100-yd. dash, placed second in the 220. During the whole year Herb was high point man.

At Falls City the relay team—Fuller, Everhart, Seymour and Duryea, placed second.

The whole season was a great success. To this team we have added several more good men this year and we look forward to an eventful season.

The Girls' Basketball season this year was full but snappy. The girls put in a lot of time training for their games, and their playing showed that their time was well spent. The teamwork and speed of the forwards were remarkable to watch. The guards were steady and hard to get away from. Although our jumping center lacked height, she overcame this obstacle by her ability to intercept passes. The running center was very dependable and was always at the right place at the right time. Although most of our first team girls leave Seneca High School this year, we have great hopes for another winning team next year. In all of the games the excellent coaching of Mr. Douglas was well shown.

Hiking Captain

Elizabeth Vorhees

The aim of the club this year was to hike one hundred miles on dirt roads during the year. It meant lots of groans and blistered heels, but the girls kept on bravely, set on winning their letters. They didn't have any exciting adventures but they certainly enjoyed their experiences immensely and found a lot of interesting places to visit on their hikes.

Instructor	Miss Leila Hemphill
President	Ruth Vorhees
Secy-Treas.	Helen E. Johnson
Accompanists	Eleanor Smith Frederica Wheeler

The Girls' Glee Club began the year with thirty-nine members under the supervision of Miss Leila Hemphill. Their first appearance was made on December 19th when with the Boys' Glee Club they presented "The Belle of Barcelona," a three-act operetta.

February 7th and 8th they were entered in the Missouri-Iowa-Nebraska-Kansas Contest at Peru, Nebraska. They sang "Amaryllis" by Ghys and were very happy to place third. The club was also represented by Ruth Vorhees, soprano solo and Eleanor Smith, piano solo.

On April 25th they entered the Big Seven Contest at Horton. Again they placed third singing "Nymphs and Shepherds" by Purcell.

The club has furnished many programs during the year for P. T. A., Chamber of Commerce, Woman's Club and so forth.

Instructor ----- Miss Leila Hemphill
President ----- Charles Hays
Secy-Treas. ----- John Allen
Accompanist ----- Helen E. Johnson

S. H. S. is very proud this year of its Boys' Glee Club. They started the year with thirty-four members and under Miss Hemphill's supervision did some wonderful work.

The combined clubs presented "The Belle of Barcelona," December 19th.

At the M. I. N. K. Contest they were represented by Paul Winsor, tenor solo, who placed first and William Seymour, bass solo. Paul Meeh from Junior High played the cornet solo.

In the Big Seven Contest the boys all did excellent work. The club sang "To Thee O Country!" by Eichberg and placed first. William Seymour also placed first representing the club with the bass solo.

They were also entered in the Emporia State Contest, April 28 to May 3. Paul Winsor, tenor and William Seymour, bass, were also entered as soloists.

The boys as well as the girls furnished many entertainments during the year, and with the girls made up the mixed chorus which placed second at the Big Seven Contest. They sang "The Ped'ar" by Dicks.

Synopsis

Margarita de Montero, the daughter of a wealthy plantation owner, has just returned home from a finishing school in Madrid. It is fiesta time in Barcelona, and the day of the season's first big bull fight. Margarita meets her friends in the Plaza where they are singing and dancing and lauding the great toreador, Emilio.

Three years before, while touring the United States with her parents, Margarita met Lieutenant Harold Wright. It was "love at first sight," but their courtship was soon interrupted by her unexpected return to Spain.

Lieutenant Wright goes to Barcelona as custom inspector and arrives at the time of the annual fiesta. On the day of Margarita's return from Madrid, as he is walking in the Plaza, he finds a mantilla on which is attached a silver pin. He recognizes it as one he had given her in Washington.

They meet when Margarita returns looking for her mantilla and the old romance is resumed. Lieutenant Wright learns she has become engaged by her parents to a scheming Spanish nobleman, much against her will. He secures the aid of his friends in his efforts to break this engagement, but is opposed by the scheming nobleman and Margarita's ambitious parents.

Lieutenant Wright suspects the nobleman, who is chief inspector for the Spanish government, as being responsible for certain alleged conditions existing at the custom house. He begins an investigation that leads to some surprising discoveries. The scenes that follow lead up to a climax in the third act revealing the true character of the nobleman. He pleads for mercy through Margarita's parents, which is granted after a promise to release her from the old engagement.

All ends well as wedding bells proclaim Margarita's engagement to Lieutenant Harold Wright.

It Happened In Hollywood

Presented by the Junior Class of Seneca High School, March 3, 1930

The events of this three-act comedy transpire at the Pembroke home in Hollywood.

During the supposed absence of Mrs. Pembroke and her daughter, the butler rents the home to one whom he takes to be the prince incognito. For advertising purposes Alan Tremayne chose to assume the part with his friend Tom Garrity acting as his valet.

The daughter, Josie Pembroke, who has been to school abroad, and her friend Dolores, the Princess, return and finding the house supposedly rented to the run away prince assume the guises of Mehitabel and Aunt Sarah, former servants in the Pembroke household. The real Prince arrives in Hollywood and in disguise takes a position as chauffeur for the prince incognito and his real station is not revealed until later when his guardian, Sir Humphrey, arrives on the scene.

To make affairs more complicated Mrs. Pembroke returns home from her trip abroad before she is expected and finds this peculiar situation. Finally all the mystery clears up but in the meantime Alan has become greatly interested in Josie as well as the run-away prince and princess who find that they were made for each other.

More pep was displayed in S. H. S. this year than has been displayed for a long time. The efforts of our cheer leaders were not in vain and our pep helped to spur our teams on to victory many a time. Secretary	Bertella Taylor
Treasurer	Lurline DeWitt
Sponsor	Miss Lukens

The "Tigerettes," an organization of all the girls in high school, which has been in existence for four years, has been reorganized this year on a different basis from what it was last year. A point system has been established, by which the girls are to be awarded letters or medals for their achievements, in both scholarship and athletics. The purpose of the organization is to encourage scholarship and women's athletics. This organization was also a girls' pep organization.

President.....Cecil Timberlake
Vice-president.....Louis Kerr
Secretary and Treasurer.....Ray Steiner

The “S” Club was reorganized in 1927 under the auspices of E. E. Coleman, coach at that time. Clyde Schenck was the first president. For membership the organization requires that a man make a letter in the major sports. Originally it was organized to work with the athletic council but it has come to be more or less a social organization.

MODERN AS YOUTH ITSELF!

● Within the space of a score of years, the scope of Southwestern Engraving Company has increased from the parent plant in Fort Worth to an organization of nine plants.

● Pioneering the field in the introduction of modernistic art, a personal service bureau composed of former college annual editors and managers, the budget and dummy system, and field service men, the name "Southwestern" has become synonymous with art motifs that are distinctive, an understanding, helpful service, and printing plates that "print right."

Theorem I—To prove you're your own grandfather.

Last week I asked a girl to marry me and she refused. To punish her I married her mother and the girl became my daughter. Yesterday, my father married the girl and he became my son. Yet, the girl being my father's wife, is my mother. Moreover, the girl's mother being my mother's mother must be my grandmother. But she is my wife, and since I am my grandmother's husband, I must be my own grandfather. Can you figure this out? Well, you're smarter then we are if you can.

A man who had just purchased a parrot that refused to talk was determined to teach it at least one word. Going over to the bird, he repeated for several minutes the words, "Hello! Hello!" At the end of the lesson, the parrot opened one eye and answered drowsily, "Line's busy."

It was their first day in a military camp and two colored recruits were sitting in the kitchen idustriously removing skins from potatoes.

"Mose," demanded the first, "Mose, why fo' dat officer keeps calling us K. P.—K. P.?"

"Hesh yo' mouf, iggorance," advised Mose, "dat am de abbreviation for keep peelin', keep peeling'."

"My son has many original ideas, hasn't he?" asked Mrs. Buehler of Russell's teacher.

"Yes," replied his teacher, "especially in spelling."

Even if a woman dyes her hair and has her face lifted, she looks like a remodeled job afterwards.

"Before we were married, Henry," said the young wife reproachfully, "you always gave me the most beautiful gifts. Do you remember?"

"Sure," replied Henry cheerfully, "but my dear, did you ever hear of a fisherman feeding bait to a fish after he had caught it?"

A former friend of one of our faculty members was asked, "Why did you break your engagement with that school teacher?"

He replied, "I didn't show up one night and she wanted me to bring a written excuse signed by my mother."

Mr. Hensleigh (when Howard was a mere baby)—"Don't you think it is about time the baby learned to say 'Papa?'"

Mrs. Hensleigh—"Oh, No! I had not intended telling him who you are until he becomes a little stronger."

Frosty—"They say people who live together grow to look alike."

Helen E.—"Then you absolutely must consider my refusal final."

"Say, mother, was baby sent down from heaven?"

"Yes, my dear."

"They must like to have things quiet up there."

Little Albert came home from school with a new book under his arm. "It's a prize, Mother," he said. "A prize? What for, dear?"

"For Natural History. Teacher asked me how many legs an ostrich had and I said three."

"But an ostrich has two legs."

"I know that now, Mother, but the rest of the class said four; so I was nearest."

He took no chances

He brushed his teeth twice a day with a nationally advertised tooth-paste.

The doctor examined him twice a year.

He wore his rubbers when it rained.

He slept with the windows open.

He stuck to a diet with plenty of fresh vegetables.

He relinquished his tonsils and traded in several worn-out glands.

He golfed—but never more than 18 holes at a time.

He got at least eight hours of sleep every night.

He never smoked, drank or lost his temper.

He did his daily dozen daily.

He was all set to live to be a hundred—

The funeral will be held next Wednesday. He is survived by eighteen specialists, four health institutes, six gymnasiums, and numerous manufacturers of health foods and antiseptics.

He had forgotten about trains at grade crossings.—Connecticut Industry.

Mr. Douglas—"Why are you late?"

Ray S.—"Oh, class began just before I got here."

He looked up in confidence as she spoke his name. Her clear blue eyes seemed to search his soul. He vainly tried to speak. Now she was smiling, but he could not say the words that meant so much to him

No, this isn't a love story, but a tragedy which occurs daily in different classrooms.

Sybil S.—"It's going to be hard to graduate and leave dear old S. H. S."

Paul W.—"Hard. It's going to be doggone near impossible."

Scandal travels at the rate of 1,000 yards a second, flattery 500 yards, and truth 2½ yards.

Rules of Etiquette

1. If at a formal dinner you're not sure which fork to use, play safe and use your spoon.
2. Always say "excuse me" instead of "pardon me." Pardon me sounds so criminal.
3. Never wear spats to a dance unless you wear shoes.
4. When eating grapefruit always shout "fore" before inserting your fork in the fruit.
5. Soup should never be eaten with a fork.
6. Always use goggles when drinking coffee. The spoon might put your eye out.
7. Remember silence is golden when eating soup.

At the Hobnail Hop, a young man was standing in the stag line when a fair co-ed was whirled by. She spoke to him, calling him by name and he answered her with a nod and smile although he could not remember who she was. He knew that he should know her for she knew his name so well, consequently he decided to cut in and see if he could determine her name. After dancing for a few minutes with her, rather than show that he did not remember her, he started the following conversation:

"And where are you living now?" he asked.

"At the Ellison apartments on Armour Boulevard," she answered. "Won't you come out to see me some time?"

"I'd be glad to," he replied, and now feeling this was his chance to determine the name, he asked, "let's see, how do you spell your name again?"

"S-M-I-T-H," she replied, "and of course you remember the Betty part."

Whereupon the boy friend decided that enough was enough and said no more.

In Love With (Geometry)

Theorem: If you love a girl she loves you.

Given: You love your girl.

To Prove: She loves you.

PROOF:

1. All the world loves a lover (Shakespeare).
2. Your girl is all the world to you (evident).
3. Your girl is equal to the world (things that equal the same thing are equal to each other).
4. Therefore your girl loves a lover.
5. You are a lover (given).
6. Therefore, your girl loves you.

Getting out an annual is no picnic.

If we print jokes, folks say we are silly.

If we don't, they say we are too serious.

If we publish original matter, they say we lack variety.

If we publish things from other papers, we are too lazy to write.

If we stay on the job, we ought to be out rustling advertisements.

If we are rustling advertisements, we get cuts from the office.

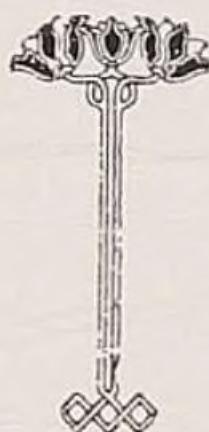

If we don't print contributions, we don't show proper appreciation.

If we print them, the annual is filled with junk.

Like as not someone will say we swiped this from an exchange.

The equivalent national greetings of some other countries to the English "How do you do?" are interesting. Translated these are:

French—How do you find yourself?

German—How goes it with you?

Swedish—How can you?

Dutch—How do you fare?

Spanish—God with you, senor.

Italian—How do you stand?

Russian—How do you live on?

Egyptian—How do you perspire?

Polish—How do you have yourself?

Arabian—Thank God, how are you?

Persian—May my shadows never grow less.

Chinese—Have you eaten your rice?

Have you heard about the Scotchman who put green glasses on his cows and fed them shavings?

Carmelita—"What causes petrified trees?"

Ruth G.—"Why, the wind makes them rock, of course."

I call my girl Niagara because she falls for everybody.

Viola—"How much gas have we?"

John S.—"I dunno. The thing says half-way, but how do I know whether it means half full or half empty?"

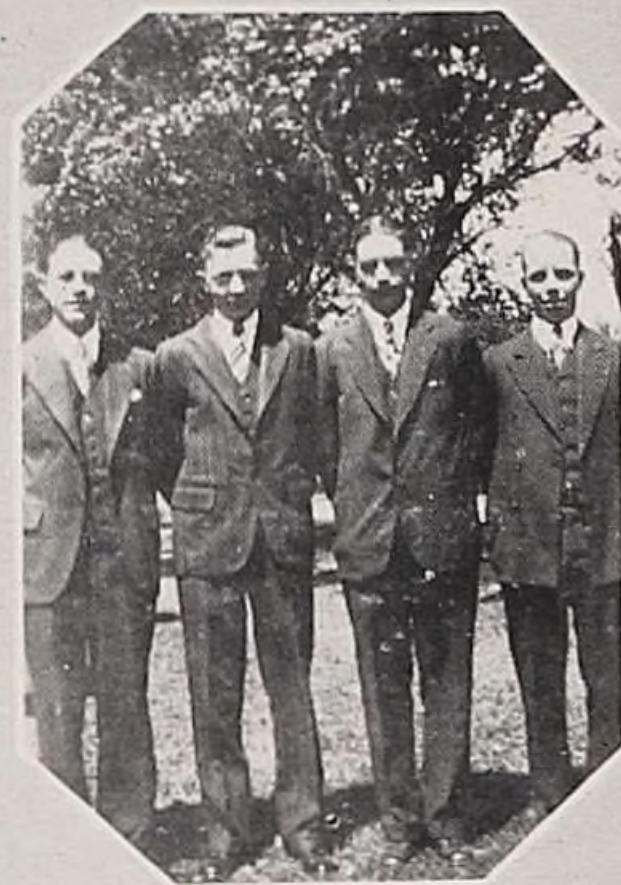

The saloons will never, never return. The filling stations have all the prominent corners.

Miss Pierson—"Why does cream cost more than milk?"

Harry Ferguson—"It's harder for the cows to sit on the smaller bottles, lady."

A certain student in Latin, namely Don Wempe, had acquired the habit of being prompted by a student who sat beside him. One day the teacher asked him to give the four principal parts of the verb "To praise" in Latin. Straining his ear, he heard the student say, "I dunno." Immediately Don responded to the teachers' question, "I dunno, I dunnare, I dunnavi, I dunnatus."
